Miller Woods

Connecting Nature and Community

Chegwyn Farms

Natural Connections was formed by Yamhill Soil and Water Conservation District to facilitate development and delivery of educational programs and public involvement at its 130 acre Miller Woods property and at Chegwyn Farms located in northwest McMinnville. Over 1200 students were able to use Miller Woods during 2008 due to all the efforts of volunteers and staff to prepare the facility for public use.

Natural Connections Mission:

Natural Connections opens pathways to the dynamic wonders of nature by providing places to experience, study, and enjoy our natural environment. Natural Connections fosters appreciation, enjoyment, and long-term stewardship of our natural resources through education programs, experiential learning opportunities, and open spaces.

Why Membership?

1. Helps secure the expectation of a quality outdoor experience for future visitors by protecting and maintaining Miller Woods and prepare Chegwyn Farms for public use.
2. Provides the funds necessary to offer quality educational programs that allow everyone, but especially our youth, to experience, study, and enjoy the dynamic wonders of nature.
3. Membership Benefits For 2009:
 - Miller Woods trail access for 2009.
 - Membership's run from Earth Day to Earth Day (April 22).
 - Invitation to Miller Woods programs offered throughout the year.
