Connecting Nature and Community

Natural Connections was formed by Yamhill Soil and Water Conservation District to facilitate development and delivery of educational programs and public involvement at its 130 acre Miller Woods property and at Chegwyn Farms located in northwest McMinnville. Over 3500 students were able to use Miller Woods this past year through school programs and field days. Close to 5000 volunteer hours were contributed to our annual fundraiser – the tree sale – and to projects at Miller Woods. Good progress was made improving the trail network and native plant nursery this past year. An oak and wildlife habitat improvement project is currently underway.

Natural Connections Mission:

Natural Connections opens pathways to the dynamic wonders of nature by providing places to experience, study, and enjoy our natural environment. Natural Connections fosters appreciation, enjoyment, and long-term stewardship of our natural resources through education programs, experiential learning opportunities, and open spaces.

Why Membership?

This past year several internships were sponsored by Natural Connections and Yamhill SWCD which allowed students the opportunity to work and learn hands-on skills at Miller Woods. Through your membership support we hope to continue sponsoring interns in the future.

1. Helps secure the expectation of a quality outdoor experience for future visitors by protecting and maintaining Miller Woods and prepare Chegwyn Farms for public use.
2. Memberships provides funds necessary to offer quality educational programs that allow everyone, but especially our youth, to experience, study, and enjoy the dynamic wonders of nature.
3. Membership Benefits For 2011:
  - Miller Woods trail access for 2011
  - Memberships run from Earth Day to Earth Day (April 22).
  - Invitation to Miller Woods programs which are offered throughout the year.
